Library 4.000 Years Old. Professor Herman V. Hilprecht of the University of Pennsylvania has just added another to his many discoveries in the archaeology of Baby- ment: He has dug up a library of 17,000 tablets which belonged to the great opinion concerning my trial and the temple of Nippur. Not one of these tablets is of a date later than 2280 B. C. Professor Hilprecht says that five years will be consumed in unearthing the remaining treasures of the temple. For ten years the University of Pennsylvania has been excavating the ruins of ancient Babylon, and its collection of those antiquities is the finest of its kind in the world. Nippur was one of the oldest seats of religion and civilization in Babylonia.

PROF. HILPRECHT.

Its great temple, upon whose library Dr. Hilprecht has just come, was coeval with the beginning of Chaldean women of America who have married history. This temple was sacred to abroad. The Ancient Fifth.

The Fifth United States Infantry is just about to sail from San Francisco for service in China. The Fifth is one of the oldest and best regiments in the regular service, and it has one of the best records for active service in the entire army. The Fifth was organized on July 16, 1798, and after several consolidations with other commands again became the Fifth in 1869, and has so remained ever since.

Colonel

Richard

Comba, the commander of the regiment, has been in the service longer than any other officer now engaged in active duty. He entered the army in 1855 and has Capt. Hackney, been in it ever since. Notwithstanding that he is more than 63 years old and that he will be retired next year, he is as anxious as any of the young men of the regiment to get to the scene of the conflict in the orient. Capt. Hackney will have charge of the Fifth after it lands in China. He has been in the service for 35 years.

The Hard Work Cure.

Dr. Pve-Smith in an address before the British Medical association, prescribed hard work as a remedy for many ills. He declared that regular and steady work is the best cure for a thousand nervous amments, and that this is true is shown by the fact that the hard working people are not those who are affected by these ills. He declared that nervous prostration, worry. and brain ension are too often synonyms for the effcet of gambling and drink. There can be no question that hard work is healthy, for it is those who work bardest that live longest, and the lazy die young. One advan- pany of that regiment. He served tage of Dr. Pye-Smith's prescription is that it is easily followed and that the remedy is cheap.

PRINCELY GIFTS GIVEN TO A BRIDE.

Steel King Leeds Gives Mrs. Worthington Diamonds-A Pearl Necklace That Cost

The Vanderbilts, Goulds and Astors have all been outstripped in one of the most lavish displays on record. William Bateman Leeds, the Steel King of New York, has beaten all records by the bestowal on his bride, Mrs. Nanule Stewart Washington, whom he married in Cleveland the other day, of half a million dollars in wedding presents.

Mr. Leeds is chairman of the American Tin Plate company, and one of the executive officers of the National Steel company and the American Steel Hoop company. He lives in New York and the couple will reside there upon their

WILLIAM B. LEEDS most striking of all was a pearl necklace worth $65,000. It contained five heavy ropes of pearls and was by far the most dazzling ornament ever displayed in the city. Then there was an $18,000 painting purchased in Europe.

There were other paintings which cost all together $75,000. The wedding ring was a simple affair, costing tut $1,000. A diamond neckince and a ruby pennant bought at Tiffany's cost $5,000. Another gift was an ermine coat for which the steel king paid $10,-000. The bride's trousseau cost $6,000. On her cape and yachting cap are diamond buttons.

American Men Wanted.

A great Mexican doctor said to me the other day, says a writer in the Boston Herald: "Why don't more young Americans come here, live among us, and take the daughters of the land in marriage? There are plenty of girls with small, and often large, fortunes, and the blend of American and Mexican blood commends itself to all physicians here. We favor crossing the race with a vigorous stock like the Americans. We need fresh blood, and my experience shows that Americans and Mexicans marrying have fine children, with the sweetness and ease of the Latin and the of the North erner."

There are some instances of this blending of the two races, and as time goes on it will be more frequent, to the benefit of Mexico, and serving as a guarantee of peace and concord.

Mexican girls like young Americans; as husbands they are reputed to be kind and not jealous.

Peculiar Concerts. In the depths of an Arctic Winter the Eskimo keep up their spirits by holding a concert every night. Their program is not very varied, although both vocal and instrumental music are indulged in. The single instrument used is a kind of tumbourine, made of a wooden hoop, some 30 inches in diameter, across which wer deerskin is stretched. But instead of thumping the skin it is the hoop that is beaten. Standing in the middle of the tent, the performer strikes the tambourine. turning slowly round all the time, whilst four or five women raise their voices in what they believe to be song. The whole performance is the most atrocious discord, but pleases where ignorance is bliss. Each man in the company is expected to take his turn with the drum, which he whacks till he is tired.

Shade and a Breeze Combined.

His invention consists of an ordinary parasol to the interior of which is attached a powerful fan with revolving blades which will drive a breeze down on the head of the person who is carrying the sunshade. The ment. fan is operated by a rod connected at either end with gear wheels. At the bottom of the rod is a ring so acranged that by inserting one finger and giving it an easy twisting motion the fan will be set to spinning and a steady breeze will be driven downwards. The exertion required to drive the fan is said to be slight, while the breeze stirred up by the revolution of the fan is extremely refreshing. The apparatus is so arranged that when the parasol is folded up the fan and its mechanism fold up with it.

" DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: -- I have a yellow, muddy complexion, feel tired and have bearing down pains. Menses have not appeared for three months; sometimes am troubled with a white discharge. Also have kidney and bladder trouble.

I have been this way for a long time, and feel so miserable I thought I would write to you and see if you could do me any good."- Miss EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio, Aug. 6, 1899.

"DEAR MES. PINKHAM:-I have used. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound according to directions, and can say I have not felt so well for years as I do at present. Before taking your medicine a more miserable person you never saw. I could not eat or sleep, and did not care to talk with any one. Now I feel so well I cannot be grateful enough to you for what you have done for me."-MISS EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio, Sept. 10, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKRAM :- I write to thank you for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me, It is the only medicine I have found that helped me I doctored with one of the best physicians in the city of New York, but received no benefit. I had been alling for about sixteen years, was so weak and nervous that I could hardly walk: had continued pain in my back and was troubled with leucorrhon. Menses were irregular and painful. Words cannot express the benefit I have derived from the use of your medicine I heartily recommend it to all suffering women." - MRS. MARY BARSHINGER, Windsor, Pa.

The above picture shows the house where George Dewey was born December 25th, 1837. It was occupied by the Dewey family until after the death of the Admiral's father. It then came into the possession of Captain Edward Dewey, who sold it to its present owner and occupant, T. R. Gordon, Eq., in the summer of 1839. Mr. Gordon moved it to its present site in the following February, 1890, and has occupied it until the present time. "She has been troubled with catarrh from childhood, and whenever she has a cold, or any unusual condition of the weather, it was worse than usual, and seemed more than she could bear.
